COMPARISON OF THE STATUTES OF UNAT AND ILOAT¹

UNAT Statute		ILOAT Statute
Art.1 A Tribunal is established by the present Statute to be known as the United Nations Administrative Tribunal.	Establishment of the Tribunal	Art. I There is established by the present Statute a Tribunal to be known as the International Labour Organization Administrative Tribunal.
Art.2 1. The Tribunal shall be competent to hear and pass judgement upon applications alleging non-observance of contracts of employment of staff members of the Secretariat of the United Nations or of the terms of appointment of such staff members. The words “contracts” and “terms of appointment” include all pertinent regulations and rules in force at the time of alleged non-observance, including the staff pension regulations. 2. The Tribunal shall be open: (a) To any staff member of the Secretariat of the United Nations even after his or her employment has ceased, and to any person who has succeeded to the staff member’s rights on his or her death; (b) To any other person who can show that he or she is entitled to rights under any contract or terms of appointment, including the provisions of staff regulations and rules upon which the staff member could have relied. 3. In the event of a dispute as to whether the Tribunal has competence, the matter shall be settled by the decision of the Tribunal. 4. The Tribunal shall not be competent, however, to deal with any applications where the cause of complaint arose prior to 1 January 1950.	Competence	Art. II 1. The Tribunal shall be competent to hear complaints alleging non-observance, in substance or in form, of the terms of appointment of officials of the International Labour Office, and of such provisions of the Staff Regulations as are applicable to the case. 2. The Tribunal shall be competent to settle any dispute concerning the compensation provided for in cases of invalidity, injury or disease incurred by an official in the course of his employment and to fix finally the amount of compensation, if any, which is to be paid. 4. The Tribunal shall be competent to hear disputes arising out of contracts to which the International Labour Organization is a party and which provide for the competence of the Tribunal in any case of dispute with regard to their execution. 6. The Tribunal shall be open: (a) to the official, even if his employment has ceased, and to any person on whom the official’s rights have devolved on his death; (b) to any other person who can show that he is entitled to some right under the terms of appointment of a deceased official or under provisions of the Staff Regulations on which the official could rely. 7. Any dispute as to the competence of the Tribunal shall be decided by it, subject to the provisions of Art. XII (...the question of the validity of the decision given by the Tribunal shall be submitted by the Governing Body, for an advisory opinion, to the International Court of Justice.)
Art.3 1. The Tribunal shall be composed of seven members, no two of whom may be nationals of the same State. Members shall possess judicial or other relevant legal experience in the field of administrative law or its equivalent within the member’s national jurisdiction. Only three members shall sit in any particular case. 2. The members shall be appointed by the General Assembly for four years and may be reappointed once. A member appointed to replace a member whose term of office has not expired shall hold office for the remainder of his or her predecessor’s term, and may be reappointed once. 3. The Tribunal shall elect its President and its two Vice-Presidents from among its members. 5. No member of the Tribunal can be dismissed by the General Assembly unless the other members are of the unanimous opinion that he or she is unsuited for further service. 6. In case of a resignation of a member of the Tribunal, the resignation shall be addressed to the President of the Tribunal for transmission to the Secretary-General. This last notification makes the place vacant.	Composition of the Tribunal	Art. III 1. The Tribunal shall consist of seven judges who shall all be of different nationalities. 2. The judges shall be appointed for a period of three years by the Conference of the International Labour Organization. Rules of the ILOAT, adopted 24 November 1993 Art. I 1. The Tribunal shall elect a President and a Vice-President. 2. Election shall be by vote of the majority of its members.

Art.4 The Tribunal shall hold ordinary sessions at dates to be fixed by its rules, subject to there being cases on its list which, in the opinion of the President, justify holding the session. Extraordinary sessions may be convoked by the President when required by the cases on the list.	Sessions	Art. IV The Tribunal shall hold ordinary sessions at dates to be fixed by the Rules of Court, subject to there being cases on its list and to such cases being, in the opinion of the President, of a character to justify holding the session. An extraordinary session may be convened at the request of the Chairman of the Governing Body of the International Labour Office.
Art.5 1. The Secretary-General of the United Nations shall make the administrative arrangements necessary for the functioning of the Tribunal. 2. The expenses of the Tribunal shall be borne by the United Nations. Art.3 4. The Secretary-General shall provide the Tribunal with an Executive Secretary and such other staff as may be considered necessary.	Administrative Arrangements	Art. IX 1. The administrative arrangements necessary for the operation of the Tribunal shall be made by the International Labour Office in consultation with the Tribunal. 2. Expenses occasioned by sessions of the Tribunal shall be borne by the International Labour Office. Rules of the ILOAT, adopted 24 November 1993 Art. 2 The Tribunal shall have a Registrar and an Assistant Registrar appointed by the Director-General of the International Labour Office.
Art.6 1. Subject to the provisions of the present Statute, the Tribunal shall establish its rules. 2. The rules shall include provisions concerning: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) Election of the President and Vice-Presidents; (b) Composition of the Tribunal for its sessions; (c) Presentation of applications and the procedure to be followed in respect to them; (d) Intervention by persons to whom the Tribunal is open under paragraph 2 of article 2, whose rights may be affected by the judgement; (e) Hearing, for purposes of information, of persons to whom the Tribunal is open under paragraph 2 of article 2, even though they are not parties to the case; and generally (f) Other matters relating to the functioning of the Tribunal. 	Rules	Art. X 1. Subject to the provisions of the present Statute, the Tribunal shall draw up Rules of Court covering: (a) the election of the President and Vice-President; (b) the convening and conduct of its sessions; (c) the rules to be followed in presenting complaints and in the subsequent procedure including intervention in the proceedings before the Tribunal by persons whose rights as officials may be affected by the judgment; (d) the procedure to be followed with regard to complaints and disputes submitted to the Tribunal by virtue of paragraphs 3 and 4 of article II; (e) and, generally, all matters relating to the operation of the Tribunal which are not settled by the present Statute. 2. The Tribunal may amend the Rules of Court.

Art.7 1. An application shall not be receivable unless the person concerned has previously submitted the dispute to the joint appeals body provided for in the Staff Regulations and the latter has communicated its opinion to the Secretary-General, except where the Secretary-General and the applicant have agreed to submit the application directly to the Administrative Tribunal. 2. In the event of the joint body's recommendations being favourable to the application submitted to it, and insofar as this is the case, an application to the Tribunal shall be receivable if the Secretary-General has: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) Rejected the recommendations; (b) Failed to take any action within thirty days following the communication of the opinion; (c) Failed to carry out the recommendations within thirty days following the communication of the opinion. 3. In the event that the recommendations made by the joint body and accepted by the Secretary-General are unfavourable to the applicant, and insofar as this is the case, the application shall be receivable, unless the joint body unanimously considers that it is frivolous. 4. An application shall not be receivable unless it is filed within ninety days reckoned from the respective dates and periods referred to in paragraph 2 above, or within ninety days reckoned from the date of the communication of the joint body's opinion containing recommendations unfavourable to the applicant. If the circumstance rendering the application receivable by the Tribunal, pursuant to paragraphs 2 and 3 above, is anterior to the date of announcement of the first session of the Tribunal, the time limit of ninety days shall begin to run from that date. Nevertheless, the said time limit on his or her behalf shall be extended to one year if the heirs of a deceased staff member or the trustee of a staff member who is not in a position to manage his or her own affairs files the application in the name of the said staff member. 5. In any particular case, the Tribunal may decide to suspend the provisions regarding time limits. 6. The filing of an application shall not have the effect of suspending the execution of the decision contested. 7. The application may be filed in any of the six official languages of the United Nations.	Complaints	Art. VII 1. A complaint shall not be receivable unless the decision impugned is a final decision and the person concerned has exhausted such other means of resisting it as are open to him under the applicable Staff Regulations. 2. To be receivable, a complaint must also have been filed within ninety days after the complainant was notified of the decision impugned or, in the case of a decision affecting a class of officials, after the decision was published. 3. Where the Administration fails to take a decision upon any claim of an official within sixty days from the notification of the claim to it, the person concerned may have recourse to the Tribunal and his complaint shall be receivable in the same manner as a complaint against a final decision. The period of ninety days provided for by the last preceding paragraph shall run from the expiration of the sixty days allowed for the taking of the decision by the Administration. 4. The filing of a complaint shall not involve suspension of the execution of the decision impugned.
Art.8 Where the three members of the Tribunal sitting in any particular case consider that the case raises a significant question of law, they may, at any time before they render judgment, refer the case for consideration by the whole Tribunal. The quorum for a hearing by the whole Tribunal shall be five members.	Composition in Exceptional Cases	Art. III 3. A meeting of the Tribunal shall be composed of three judges or, in exceptional circumstances, five, to be designated by the President, or all seven.
Art.9 The oral proceedings of the Tribunal shall be held in public unless the Tribunal decides that exceptional circumstances require that they be held in private.	Oral Proceedings	Art. V The Tribunal shall decide in each case whether the oral proceedings before it or any part of them shall be public or in camera.

Art.10 1. If the Tribunal finds that the application is well founded, it shall order the rescinding of the decision contested or the specific performance of the obligation invoked. At the same time, the Tribunal shall fix the amount of compensation to be paid to the applicant for the injury sustained should the Secretary-General, within thirty days of the notification of the judgment, decide, in the interest of the United Nations, that the applicant shall be compensated without further action being taken in his or her case, provided that such compensation shall not exceed the equivalent of two years' net base salary of the applicant. The Tribunal may, however, in exceptional cases, when it considers it justified, order the payment of a higher indemnity. A statement of the reasons for the Tribunal's decision shall accompany each such order. 2. Should the Tribunal find that the procedure prescribed in the Staff Regulations or Staff Rules has not been observed, it may, at the request of the Secretary-General and prior to the determination of the merits of the case, order the case remanded for institution or correction of the required procedure. Where a case is remanded, the Tribunal may order the payment of compensation, which is not to exceed the equivalent of three months' net base salary, to the applicant for such loss as may have been caused by the procedural delay. 3. In all applicable cases, compensation shall be fixed by the Tribunal and paid by the United Nations or, as appropriate, by the specialized agency participating under article 14.	Substantive Powers of the Tribunal	Art. VIII In cases falling under article II, the Tribunal, if satisfied that the complaint was well founded, shall order the rescinding of the decision impugned or the performance of the obligation relied upon. If such rescinding of a decision or execution of an obligation is not possible or advisable, the Tribunal shall award the complainant compensation for the injury caused to him. Art. IX 3. Any compensation awarded by the Tribunal shall be chargeable to the budget of the International Labour Organization.
Art.11 1. The Tribunal shall take all decisions by a majority vote. 2. Subject to the provisions of article 12, the judgements of the Tribunal shall be final and without appeal. 3. The judgements shall state the reasons on which they are based. 4. The judgements shall be drawn up, in any of the six official languages of the United Nations, in two originals, which shall be deposited in the archives of the Secretariat of the United Nations. 5. A copy of the judgement shall be communicated to each of the parties in the case. Copies shall also be made available on request to interested persons.	Judgements	Art. VI 1. The Tribunal shall take decisions by a majority vote; judgments shall be final and without appeal. 2. The reasons for a judgment shall be stated. The judgment shall be communicated in writing to the Director-General of the International Labour Office and to the complainant. 3. Judgments shall be drawn up in a single copy, which shall be filed in the archives of the International Labour Office, where it shall be available for consultation by any person concerned.
Art.12 The Secretary-General or the applicant may apply to the Tribunal for a revision of a judgement on the basis of the discovery of some fact of such a nature as to be a decisive factor, which fact was, when the judgement was given, unknown to the Tribunal and also to the party claiming revision, always provided that such ignorance was not due to negligence. The application must be made within thirty days of the discovery of the fact and within one year of the date of the judgement. Clerical or arithmetical mistakes in judgements, or errors arising therein from any accidental slip or omission, may at any time be corrected by the Tribunal either of its own motion or on the application of any of the parties.	Revision of Judgements	Art. XII 1. In any case in which the Governing Body of the International Labour Office or the Administrative Board of the Pensions Fund challenges a decision of the Tribunal confirming its jurisdiction, or considers that a decision of the Tribunal is vitiated by a fundamental fault in the procedure followed, the question of the validity of the decision given by the Tribunal shall be submitted by the Governing Body, for an advisory opinion, to the International Court of Justice. 2. The opinion given by the Court shall be binding.

Art.13 The present Statute may be amended by decision of the General Assembly.	Amendments	Art. XI The present Statute shall remain in force during the pleasure of the General Conference of the International Labour Organization. It may be amended by the Conference or such other organ of the Organization as the Conference may determine.
Art.14 1. The competence of the Tribunal shall be extended to the staff of the Registry of the International Court of Justice upon the exchange of letters between the President of the Court and the Secretary-General of the United Nations establishing the relevant conditions. 2. The Tribunal shall be competent to hear and pass judgement upon applications alleging non-observance of the regulations of the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Fund arising out of the decision of the United Nations Joint Staff Pension Board submitted to the Tribunal by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (a) Any staff member of a member organization of the Pension Fund which has accepted the jurisdiction of the Tribunal in Pension Fund cases who is eligible under article 21 of the regulations of the Fund as a participant in the Fund, even if his or her employment has ceased, and any person who has acceded to such staff member's rights upon his or her death; (b) Any other person who can show that he or she is entitled to rights under the regulations of the Pension Fund by virtue of the participation in the Fund of a staff member of such member organization. 3. The competence of the Tribunal may be extended to any specialized agency brought into relationship with the United Nations in accordance with the provisions of Articles 57 and 63 of the Charter upon the terms established by a special agreement to be made with each such agency by the Secretary-General of the United Nations. Each such special agreement shall provide that the agency concerned shall be bound by the judgements of the Tribunal and be responsible for the payment of any compensation awarded by the Tribunal in respect of a staff member of that agency and shall include, inter alia, provisions concerning the agency's participation in the administrative arrangements for the functioning of the Tribunal and concerning its sharing the expenses of the Tribunal. 4. The competence of the Tribunal may also be extended, with the approval of the General Assembly, to any other international organization or entity established by a treaty and participating in the common system of conditions of service, upon the terms set out in a special agreement between the organization or entity concerned and the Secretary-General of the United Nations. Each such special agreement shall provide that the organization or entity concerned shall be bound by the judgements of the Tribunal and be responsible for the payment of any compensation awarded by the Tribunal in respect of a staff member of that organization or entity and shall include, inter alia, provisions concerning its participation in the administrative arrangements for the functioning of the Tribunal and concerning its sharing the expenses of the Tribunal.	Jurisdiction of the Tribunal	Art. II 5. The Tribunal shall also be competent to hear complaints alleging non-observance, in substance or in form, of the terms of appointment of officials and of provisions of the Staff Regulations of any other international organization meeting the standards set out in the Annex which has addressed to the Director-General a declaration recognizing, in accordance with its Constitution or internal administrative rules, the jurisdiction of the Tribunal for this purpose, as well as its Rules of Procedure, and which is approved by the Governing Body. Art. II 3. The Tribunal shall be competent to hear any complaint of non-observance of the Staff Pensions Regulations or of rules made in virtue thereof in regard to an official or the wife, husband or children of an official, or in regard to any class of officials to which the said Regulations or the said rules apply. 4. The Tribunal shall be competent to hear disputes arising out of contracts to which the International Labour Organization is a party and which provide for the competence of the Tribunal in any case of dispute with regard to their execution. Annex to the Statute of the Administrative Tribunal of the International Labour Organization To be entitled to recognize the jurisdiction of the Administrative Tribunal of the International Labour Organization, an international organization must either be intergovernmental in character, or fulfil the following conditions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a) it shall be clearly international in character, having regard to its membership, structure and scope of activity; b) it shall not be required to apply any national law in its relations with its officials, and shall enjoy immunity from legal process as evidenced by a headquarters agreement concluded with the host country; and c) it shall be endowed with functions of a permanent nature at the international level and offer, in the opinion of the Governing Body, sufficient guarantees as to its institutional capacity to carry out such functions as well as guarantees of compliance with the Tribunal's judgments.
